GAZAFER OPENING

Stock Prices Rise Following Early Heaviness.

COALERS SHOW STRENGTH

Reading, Lehigh Valley and Union Pacific in Demand.

FORMER FEATURE OF MARKET

Contributes Twenty-Five Per Cent of the First Hour's Active Business.

NEW YORK, October 10.—Further selling of stocks, based on the London situation, attended the opening dealings on the exchange today. The special features of weakness were Southern Pacific, Great Northern Ore, Missouri Pacific and Canadian Pacific. Coalers were strong, however, Reading stock rising a point.

Early trading was brisk, off, and before noon was generally active. Reading, Lehigh Valley and Union Pacific also were in demand.

Such strength as today's market manifested after its early heaviness was generally attributed to the promise let out by yesterday's crop report, which exceeded all expectations. This favorable factor was offset, however, by renewed selling for Europe, where conditions, particularly in Paris, pointed to increased nervousness.

Activity of Reading. Reading was a feature by itself, contributing 25 per cent of the first hour's active business, and advancing two points before noon. The special features of weakness were Southern Pacific, Great Northern Ore, Missouri Pacific and Canadian Pacific. Coalers were strong, however, Reading stock rising a point.

Steel became the leader during the noon hour, heavy trading was off, and before noon was generally active. Reading, Lehigh Valley and Union Pacific also were in demand.
